devolo Magic 2 LAN ^{DINrail}

A first-class network, now and in the future: Having the devolo Magic 2 LAN DINrail means you're ready for tomorrow – today. The Magic 2 LAN DINrail solution places the maximum amount of Powerline Technology where it can be used by everyone – in the distribution box. The 2400 Mbps Internet signal is provided directly at the source. This means that it finds the fastest way to every corner of the building, even the ones that used to be unreachable. The power cables are used to turn every power socket from the basement to the attic into a potential network jack. And setting-up comprehensive networking is not only possible but easy. Thanks to the 3-phase connection to your power supply grid, you can realise the full potential of your Powerline Network. For example, you can set up a multimedia network in combination with another Magic Adapter, or you can use the Magic 2 LAN DINrail to connect your smart home. No matter what you have in mind – The Magic 2 LAN DINrail from devolo equips you for the future using G.hn Technology.
